Sundays in the Square

Free Shows in St George's Square

pPod: a new theatre experience

Horse + Bamboo have created a stunning portable theatre, the first of its kind in Europe and bring to Hebden Bridge two family shows Early One Morning and Botany Begins at Home created by Bob Frith and Alison Duddle. The pPod shows create worlds where everything is familiar and, at the same time, disconnected and strange. These 15-minute shows combine live and recorded music and are enchanting and utterly engaging. Both stories have a folk-like quality, which evokes the world of tradition within a contemporary setting.

Early One Morning

performances at 11.00am, 11.30am, 12.00 noon, 12.30pm

Botany Begins at Home

performances at 2.30pm, 3.00pm, 3.30pm and 4.00pm.

The audience for each performance is limited to 35 – once seen, twice smitten.

Other performers in the Square from 1.00pm include The Peace Artistes and Batinka.

Jo Caulfield

Picture House, New Road, Hebden Bridge

8.00 pm (to 9.45pm approx)

£10 (£8)

Jo Caulfield is one of the most popular comedians on the comedy circuit and has been nominated as one of the best female comics in the country. She has been a Comedy Writer/Programme Consultant for all five series of the BAFTA award-winning So Graham Norton. She can be heard frequently on many successful radio shows and for the past four years has been the toast of the Edinburgh Festival.

"Cut-throat wit and a razor-sharp tongue, like Baby Jane on speed. Regularly brings audiences to their knees with laughter" (Evening Standard)

"Thank God for Jo Caulfield...an inspiration to would-be female comics" (The Observer)

Tongue & Groove with special guest artist Dennis Rollins

And support from jazz songstress Ruby Wood

Trades Club, Holme Street, Hebden Bridge

9.00pm (to midnight approx.)

£9 (£7)

Dennis Rollins is celebrated for his versatility and unique approach to the trombone. He was a member of the NYJO and the legendary Jazz Warriors and has performed with Courtney Pine, Baba Maal, Jamiroquai, Brand New Heavies and Blur. In this one-off performance he's guesting with Tongue & Groove, Peadar Long and Dave Nelson's unique world-jazz 5-piece ensemble. Great tunes, inspired playing and one of the biggest names in contemporary jazz.

Monday June 27

Local Gardeners' Question Time

Little Theatre, Holme Street, Hebden Bridge

8.00 pm (to 10.00pm approx)

Calder Valley's version of the popular radio programme. Chaired by Kerry McQuade, local organic gardener and columnist. Panel members: John Williams, expert gardener at 1000 feet; Helen Blackwell, organic gardener and designer; Michael Mitchell, Alpine specialist from Slack Top and Mary-Ann Reed, organic vegetable gardener. Come along with your gardening questions or drop them in to the Festival Shop in advance. A horticultural feast.

An Evening with the Puzzle Poets

A personal view of people and places from the 1960's and 70's by Robert Blomfield. Light refreshments included.

Pictures, Words and Music

Peter Coles

St Michael's Church Hall, Mytholmroyd

7.30pm (to 10.30pm approx)

£5 (£4)

Peter Coles, apart from being a local Calderdale Councillor, is well known internationally as one of the world's best producers of Audio-Visual Sequences. He will present some of his own work, together with a few other authors' Sequences from home and abroad. We hope this event may pave the way for a full International Digital AV Competition during the 2006 Festival.

Wednesday June 29

Wesker on Wesker

Little Theatre, Holme Street, Hebden Bridge

8.00pm (10.20pm approx)

£10 (£8)

Arnold Wesker is an accomplished performer and this evening is a unique opportunity to hear one of the key dramatists of our time read from his plays both published and unpublished. His plays, many of which are landmarks of 20th century theatre, include The Kitchen, The Wesker Trilogy (Chicken Soup with Barley, Roots, I'm Talking about Jerusalem), Chips with Everything and, scheduled for this year, two new plays: Groupie and Longitude. 2005 seems like being another good year for the playwright whose first novel Honey is published this autumn and BBC Radio 3 is transmitting his own adaptation of his play Shylock with David Suchet in the title role. In addition to 42 plays his output includes scripts for TV, radio and film. His work is translated and published in eighteen languages and is continually performed worldwide. An evening of startling brilliance.

Who was Rudolf Steiner?

Rudolf Steiner Centre, Machpelah Works, Burnley Road, Hebden Bridge

8.00pm (to 9.30pm approx)

£4 (£3)

An evening of talks and presentations on the life and work of this multi-faceted philosopher-visionary from the early twentieth century. Presented by the Hebden Bridge Rudolf Steiner Group.

Thursday June 30

Frank Cottrill Boyce

Riverside School, Holme Street, Hebden Bridge

3.00pm

He will be working with years 5 and 6 at Riverside School that day. A long-time collaborator with Michael Winterbottom, Frank Cottrill Boyce is one of the busiest, most prolific and versatile screenwriters currently working in the British film industry. His latest film, Danny Boyle's Millions, sees him tackling a dark-tinged children's fable. He also turned the script into a novel – his first – of which he is justifiably proud.

Thanks to Riverside School there is a brief opportunity for members of the public to meet Frank Cottrill Boyce (whose filmography includes Welcome to Sarajevo, Hilary and Jackie, 24 Hour Party People and this year Tristram Shandy) at 3.00pm and have copies of his book Millions signed.

"All the classic ingredients to delight... irresistible" (The Times)

"A deliciously funny story given depth by a tinge of bitter sweetness" (The Guardian)

THE BEARDER CHARITY

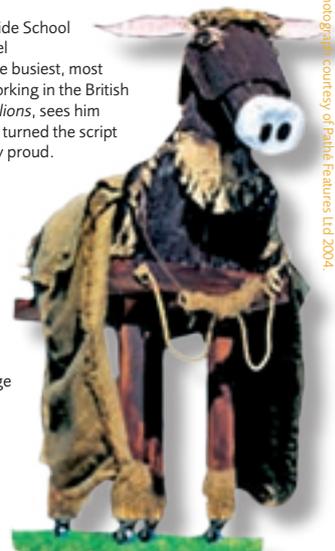

The Clown, the Singer and the Storyteller

Zion Cooperative Studio, Nutclough, Keighley Road, Hebden Bridge

7.30pm (to 9.30pm approx)

£5 (£4)

The Clown, the Singer and the Storyteller is a performance of three acts. An improvised clown solo in the commedia del arte tradition with Tim Gibbons, a selection of songs sung by Katey McShane written by herself and accompanied on acoustic guitar and finally stories of many traditions told by Peter Findlay.

Thursday June 30

Kerouac's Dream – A Life on the Road

Picture House, New Road, Hebden Bridge

8.00pm (to 10.30pm approx)

£10 (£8)

Inspired by Jack Kerouac's novel On the Road Allan Taylor left his home in the sixties with nothing more than a guitar and a hunger to live the life of the travelling troubadour. The first half of the evening is a film by Jack Shea, Who Owns Jack Kerouac? A powerful and controversial documentary exploring the relationship between Jack and his never formally acknowledged daughter Jan. "One of the most important films ever made about the Kerouac legend" (Beat Poet Ron Whitehead)

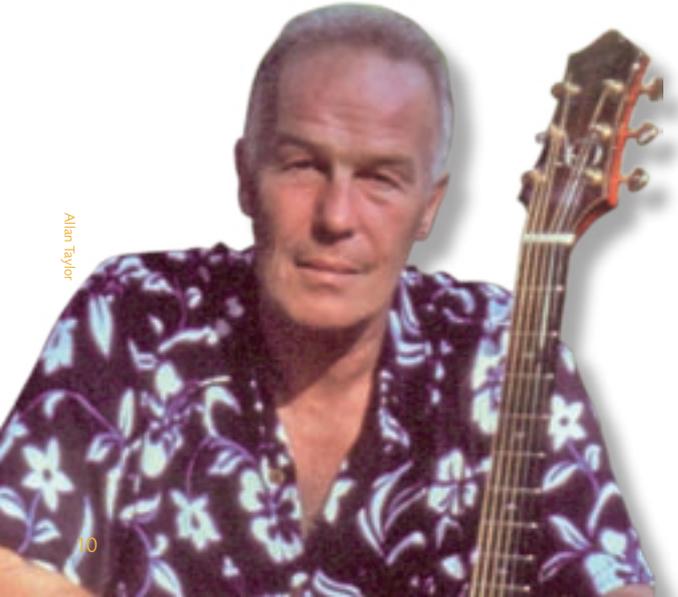

This is followed by a concert by Allan Taylor of his songs "On the Road".

"I think you are more purely musical than just about anyone I know"

(Tom Paxton)

"...[Allan Taylor] should probably be regarded as potentially the most important songwriter of his generation" (Dr Frederick Woods, The Oxford Book of Traditional Verse)

Friday July 1

Donkey and Potto

A play with Jenny Tarren and Amanda Waldy

Little Theatre, Holme Street, Hebden Bridge

8.00pm (to 9.30pm approx)

£9 (£7)

A new and humorous presentation of the letters between Virginia Woolf and Vita Sackville-West, which reflect aspects of their relationship not previously explored. A particular intimacy is created by Amanda Waldy and Jenny Tarren who deliver the letters with a great understanding and warmth, which is convincing and compelling. There will be a question-and-answer session in the Little Theatre bar following the performance.

In association with Bloomsbury Productions

Raining Angels

Coyote Dream Theatre

Wadsworth Community Centre, Wadsworth

8.00pm (to 9.00pm approx)

£7 (£5) under 16 years free

We don't always know it, but we are ever in the presence of Angels; since the sinew of Jacob's thigh shrivelled. The man who can't forget, the peasant with the beetroot and the stranger; a part-improvised performance in which soup will be served.

Saturday July 2

Calderdale Community Samba

Holme Street Arts Centre, Hebden Bridge

Samba Rhythms and Dance Workshop 12 noon to 2.00pm

Costume and Processional Arts Workshop 3.00pm to 5.00pm

Each workshop £5 (£3)

Calderdale Community Samba Band plays Brazilian carnival and street rhythms and warmly invites you to feel the spirit of carnival – join them in making carnival costumes, dancing sambas and banging out monster beats! Both workshops will lead to a full costumed carnival performance in St George's Square the following day.

Book Weekend at Little Theatre, Holme Street, Hebden Bridge

Light refreshments and drinks will be available from 12.30pm to 5.30pm both days. A wide range of books will be on sale supplied by Bookcase.

Amanda Dalton and Tobias Hill

1.30pm to 2.30pm

Two poets from The Observer's Next Generation read and discuss their work. Amanda Dalton was born in Coventry, worked in Leicestershire comprehensive schools and organised Arvon Foundation courses at Lumb Bank, Hebden Bridge. She is now Education Director at the Royal Exchange Theatre, Manchester and lives in Hebden Bridge. Her first full-length collection of poems How to Disappear is published by Bloodaxe. Tobias Hill lived for some time in Japan as the Sunday Telegraph's rock critic and served tenure as Poet in Residence at London Zoo. He is author of three award-winning collections of poetry and three novels. "...he is one of the two or three most interesting novelists working in Britain today..." (A.S. Byatt, The Guardian)

Ann and Anthony Thwaite

Little Theatre, Holme Street, Hebden Bridge

3.30pm to 4.30pm

Respectively, biographer and poet – they have worked as writers through the fifty years of their marriage. Anthony will read from his latest book A Move in the Weather and from his previous poetry collections. He was a literary editor and BBC radio producer for many years, and has taught and lectured all over the world. Ann will talk about her writing life, how she moved from children's books to writing biographies. A.A. Milne: His Life won the Whitbread prize for the Biography of the Year in 1990. Her other subjects have been Frances Hodgson Burnett, the Gosses (father and son) and Emily Tennyson, the poet's wife. Their friend, Stephen Platten, the Bishop of Wakefield, will chair the session.

Andrew Martin

Little Theatre, Holme Street, Hebden Bridge

5.30pm to 6.30pm

Novelist and New Statesman columnist reads and discusses his work. His latest novel Blackpool Highflyer (successor to The Necropolis Railway) tells of railwayman Jim Stringer's assignment to drive mill workers from Halifax to Blackpool in the long hot summer of 1905. His dreams of beer and women are destroyed when the train meets a huge millstone on the line. Jim investigates the sabotage and discovers a murky world of dandies, fraudsters, ventriloquists, shifty revolutionaries and textile magnates. Set in Halifax and Blackpool with a terrific chase in Hardcastle Crags, this novel is a superb picture of this area at the turn of the 20th century. "Often amusing, always intriguing, this is a terrific read" (The Observer)

Hepton Singers

Heptonstall Parish Church

8.00pm (to 10.00pm approx)

£7 (£4) children and full time students £1

More than 30 local musicians sing with this chamber choir which has been performing in Heptonstall for more than three decades. Directed by Roger Scaife and Alison West, the eclectic programme includes English 16th century Latin church music and traditional African folk songs.

In Concert: Tom McConville and Pauline Cato with Dave Wood

Mytholmroyd Community Centre

8.00pm (to 10.30pm approx)

£8 (£6)

Pauline Cato (Northumbrian pipes) and Tom McConville (fiddle) are two of the best known and respected performers on the English folk scene. Since their debut together at the Shetland Festival in 1995, they have toured extensively throughout the UK, Europe, the USA and New Zealand. They blend effortlessly together to produce a unique and full sound and specialise in both dynamic unison playing and beautifully arranged harmonies. They are delighted to be joined by guitarist Dave Wood who adds a new dimension to the music of this popular and successful duo.

Fairly Tales

The Black Sheep Comedy Company
The Little Theatre, Holme Street, Hebden Bridge

5.30pm to 6.30pm

£5.50 (£3.50)

The acclaimed improvised storytelling family show. Tales created directly from suggestions from the audience. Puppetry, poems and performers come together in a kaleidoscope of laughter and mischief. "One of the most enjoyable shows at the Edinburgh Festival" (Times Educational Supplement), "The performers are combing the audience for words, opening dictionaries at random, getting us to imagine objects in boxes...Fairly Tales is that rare beast: refreshing, unpretentious theatre that celebrates its raw ingredients and reinvestigates the link between teller and listener" (Time Out)

Not suitable for under 5's.

In association with James Seabright

Cragg Vale Gamelan Farewell Concert

Heptonstall Parish Church

7.30pm (to 9.30pm approx)

£8 (£6) children and full time students £1

It's 18 years, almost to the day, since CVG started its life as the UK's only touring, community gamelan. A celebration of those years, this final concert will include some of the best music from the band's repertoire since 1987, and will feature Musical Director David Nelson's Concerto for a Million Trees with soloists Ed Oxley (didgeridoo) and Peadar Long (saxophones, flute, whistle and bagpipes).

Beckett's Outbursts

The Godot Company

The Little Theatre, Holme Street, Hebden Bridge

8.00pm (to 9.45pm approx)

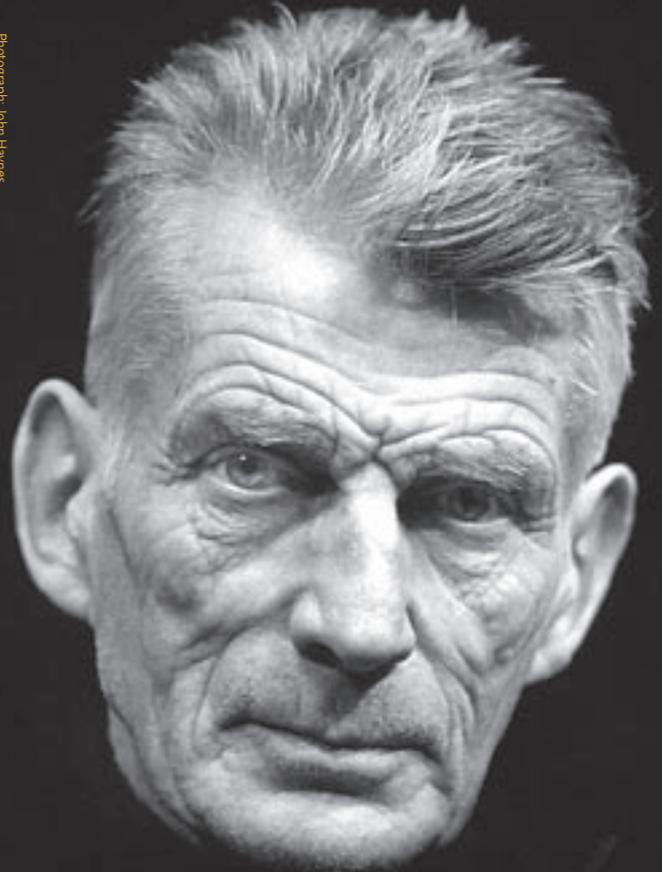

£9 (£7)

This programme, created for the Godot Company by John Calder out of Samuel Beckett's fiction and dramatic monologues, concentrates on the author's fascination with the oddities of human behaviour and the outbursts of protest and anger at the lot of man, apparently abandoned on a planet in an enormous and incomprehensible universe, often trusting in a God who is called caring on scant evidence. Beckett is not only a great tragedian, but an unusual humourist who explores the comic dimensions of our follies and our obsessions. Extracts from Watt, a novel written in English during the war when he was hiding from the Germans in occupied France as a member of the Resistance, occupies much of the evening and contains much of the author's funniest writing. The Texts for Nothing and the Molloy Trilogy are also performed as well as other extracts.

Introduced by John Calder who was for many years Samuel Beckett's publisher and friend. This is a rare opportunity and insight into the writings of one of the giants of 20th century literature.

The Godot Company is a cooperative of experienced actors formed to perform the works of Beckett.

Lynnwood Brass Quintet

St Michael's Church, Mytholmroyd7.30pm (to 9.00pm approx)*£7 (£4) children and full time students £1

For great music from Handel and Elgar to Bernstein and Colonel Bogey, the Lynnwood Brass Quintet has it all at their talented fingertips. This locally based group will take you on a musical journey that will delight and surprise you whether you want to make new discoveries or enjoy old favourites.

David Benson's Haunted Stage

Little Theatre, Holme Street, Hebden Bridge8.00pm (to 9.15pm approx)*£9 (£7)

Ever seen a ghost? David Benson brings classic tales to spine-chilling life and tells of real ghostly encounters. He is perhaps best known for his remarkable show about Kenneth Williams, and this new one, as so often with this performer, brings a strong autobiographical element to bear, torn as he is between his father's rationalism and his grandfather's superstitions. Not for the faint-hearted but perfect entertainment for those who like a shiver down the spine.

Thursday July 7

Calder Valley Voices

Methodist Church, Bridge Lanes, Hebden Bridge7.30pm (to 10.00pm approx)*£7.50 (£5)

Calder Valley Voices is Hebden Bridge's own community choir, with members from throughout the Upper Valley and beyond. We don't audition, or ask that members read music – anyone and everyone can sing. Under the expert guidance of musical director Kate Howard, we enjoy songs from many traditions – the Balkans and Eastern Europe, American gospel and shape-note, mediaeval European and British folk – a world feast of unaccompanied harmonies.

Ovid's Metamorphoses

Hugh Lupton and Daniel Morden

Little Theatre, Holme Street, Hebden Bridge

8.00pm (to 10.00pm approx.)
£9 (£7)

A welcome return by two of Britain's master storytellers, this time with Ovid's wonderful tales of transformation which form some of the Western World's most enduring myths. The stories including Demeter and Persephone, Orpheus in the Underworld and Echo and Narcissus, have had a huge influence on our culture, and still have the power to charm and chill today.

"...praise be to Morden and Lupton, who made the gods live..."

(The Times)

"The tale of Echo and Narcissus stopped all our hearts, however hardened by age" (The Guardian)

GoldilocksTutti Frutti Productions*Central Street School,
Hebden Bridge*Two performances
11.00am and 1.30pm
(each performance lasts 45mins.)£5.50 (£3.50)

Broken furniture, messed up beds and tears of anger and frustration ...who'd have thought that a bit of porridge could lead to so much havoc? Tutti Frutti's delicious new production tells the story of Goldilocks...a girl who should have known better. With four performers and a live vocal score (ranging from songs and serenades to sighs, spits and splutters) this show is funny, stylish, slightly bonkers and suitably wicked. It will appeal, appal and delight adults and children over 3.

Lunchtime recital with Due Voci*Heptonstall Parish Church*1.00pm (to 2.00pm approx)*£4 (£3) children and full time students £1

"Due Voci" are sopranos Mandy Doyle and Vivien Burr. Specialising in classical duets, their beautifully blended voices have been captivating audiences at local musical events for several years. This recital programme, drawing on their repertoire from Vivaldi to Vaughan Williams, will delight the ear and touch the heart.

Helen Clare and Chris Woods – poetry readingBlue Pig, Midgehole, Hardcastle Crags*6.00pm (to 7.00pm approx)*£5

Helen Clare is a poet captivated by the patterns and patterning of science. She began her career as a Biology teacher and her writing continues to delight in the whorls and sprung-coils of our physical lives. Tonight she reads from her debut collection, Mollusc (Comma Press). "...a new seam opening up in British poetry – every rift loaded with ore" (Hugo Williams). As with Helen, Chris Woods' poetry is fascinated by the biological sciences. His first collection, Recovery (Enitharmon) drew much from his experience as a doctor, whilst his more recent work revels in the majesty of the Pennine landscape. His poetry has been widely broadcast and he has won many poetry competitions including the Peterloo Poetry Prize. In association with Comma Press

The Chinook Clarinet QuartetHeptonstall Parish Church*8.00pm (to 10.00pm approx)*£8 (£6) children and full time students £1

Ranging from Albinoni to Charles Mingus and including pieces especially written for them by leading contemporary composers, the Chinooks present a programme that encompasses early music, jazz, African rhythms, Latin American dance such as tango and rumba and much more. They've performed at the Bridgewater Hall, the Wigmore Hall and at the South Bank. They have to be seen, as well as heard, to be believed.

Defying Hitler

By Sebastian Haffner adapted for the stage by Rupert Wickham

Little Theatre, Holme Street, Hebden Bridge

8.00pm (to 9.30pm approx)

£9 (£7)

Rupert Wickham performs his own adaptation of Haffner's memoir of growing up in pre-war Berlin, exploring how and why the Germans were seduced by Hitler and the Nazis. This is an extended version of the very successful platform performances given at the National Theatre last autumn. A sensitive, thought-provoking play which brings to life Haffner's candid, witty and extremely moving account of his early life and reflections on the momentous political events taking place.

Craig Brown says of the book "if you have never read a book about Nazi Germany before, or if you have already read a thousand, I would urge you to read Defying Hitler. It sings with wisdom and understanding."

The performance is by kind permission of the author's children, Oliver Pretzel and Sarah Haffner, directed by Peter Symonds and presented by Theatre Unlimited

Post-Festival Event: Saturday July 23

Brief Encounter: An Audience with Michael Mansfield QC

Picture House, New Road, Hebden Bridge
8.00pm (to 10.00pm approx)
£12 (£10)

Personal experiences of being involved in the most famous cases of the last thirty years including Lockerbie, Jill Dando's murder, Stephen Lawrence, Bloody Sunday, the Omagh bombing, Marchioness disaster, Al Fayed/Princess Diana mystery crash.

"There is no question that he has been a force for good in this country, and has kept the flag of civil liberties flying when governments would have been very happy to have seen it suppressed" (Lynn Barber, The Observer.)

A post-festival event because Michael Mansfield is now working at the War Crimes Tribunal in The Hague but is coming to Hebden Bridge especially to fulfil the commitment made earlier.

Presented in association with Clive Conway Celebrity Productions Ltd

Inter-Festival Event: Saturday October 29

The Imitation Game by Ian McEwan North Country Theatre directed by Nobby Dimon

Little Theatre, Holme Street, Hebden Bridge
8.00pm
£9 (£7)

Following the sell-out success of the hilarious Confession of Brother Wormwood NCT now turn their attention to more serious matters in this moving story of a young woman's experience of World War 11. This is the first stage adaptation of Booker prizewinning author Ian McEwan's television play first shown on BBC's Play for Today in 1980. "A 'Play for Today' of rare distinction" (Clive James, The Observer). Cathy is keen to make a meaningful contribution to the war effort and joins the ATS against the wishes of her parents and fiancé. She becomes a wireless operator in Special Operations recording the German Enigma signals that are dispatched to Bletchley Park for decoding but soon her frustration at not being employed to her full ability, together with her tendency to speak her mind, land her in an emotional and legal minefield.

Exhibitions

Charlotte Voake, children's book illustrator

The Festival Shop, New Oxford House, Albert Street, Hebden Bridge
 June 11 to July 10 daily 10am to 5pm

Free

Charlotte Voake is an highly acclaimed illustrator, winner of the Smarties Book Prize with Ginger. Here on display will be original works from the astonishing Magic Pencil Exhibition (now touring the world in reproduction form) and original illustrations from A Child's Guide to Wild Flowers

"I recommend this book to any parent keen to pass on a love of nature to their children" (Alan Titchmarsh), plus sketch books and copies of her published work to simply sit and read and enjoy.

Quentin Blake

Artsmill, Linden Mill, Linden Road, Hebden Bridge
 June 22 to July 24 (closed every Monday and Tuesday)
 11am – 5pm

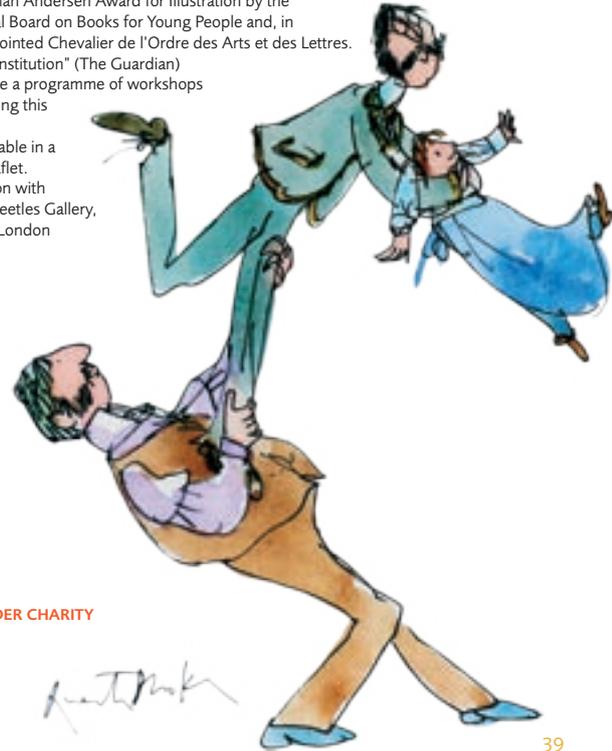

Free

Group Bookings (free) please telephone Artsmill 01422 843413

An exhibition of between sixty and eighty original illustrations by the first Children's Laureate, all of which are for sale. He has worked with many writers, most famously with Roald Dahl and has created much-loved characters of his own such as Mister Magnolia and Mrs Armitage. He has been awarded just about every children's book prize there is and recently the Hans Christian Andersen Award for Illustration by the International Board on Books for Young People and, in France, appointed Chevalier de l'Ordre des Arts et des Lettres. "a national institution" (The Guardian)

There will be a programme of workshops accompanying this exhibition – details available in a separate leaflet.

In association with The Chris Beetles Gallery, St James's, London

THE BEARDER CHARITY

Olive Tree, Hellela Shaw

H.E.A.D.S, Unit 2, 38 Hangingroyd Lane,

Hebden Bridge

June 19 to July 17

Wednesday to Friday 11.30am to 4.30pm;

Saturday to Sunday 11am to 5pm

Free

An installation in the Hourglass Gallery of photographic fragments on translucent fabric, exploring the significance of the olive tree as a symbol of Palestinian identity and its iconic role in the Palestinian heritage and the political struggle of the region.

Phil Withersley

The Calder Gallery, 20 Market Street, Hebden Bridge

June 25 to July 10

10am to 5pm

Free

The Calder Gallery is a new space showing quality contemporary original paintings, prints and sculpture. Phil Withersley (joint owner of the gallery) will be showing his paintings and prints and working on them.

Surface Tension

Photography by Sarah Eyre

Little Theatre bar, throughout the Festival, open when Festival events are taking place

Local photographer Sarah Eyre explores the Pennine's moor-top reservoirs – their stark blasted locations and changing appearance through subtle changes in weather. Asking what these watery surfaces reflect, as well as what they hide submerged beneath, this is the first glimpse of a much larger study of the region, its landscapes, surfaces and boundaries. Sarah's work has previously been exhibited in Castlefield Gallery and Manchester City Gallery.

Steve Morgan Photographer

No 5 Melbourne Mill, Brunswick Street, Hebden Bridge

Saturday June 25 and Sunday June 26 12 noon to 6pm

Free

An exhibition by Hebden Bridge based photographer Steve Morgan of images of Pecket Well Mill prior to its conversion to residential units. Like many old textile mills in West Yorkshire Pecket Well is embarking on a new phase in its life – these images capture the last days of the old one. Exhibition space kindly loaned by Mango Homes.

Graffiti Garden

An installation of Graffiti Boards at 37 Royd Terrace, Hebden Bridge.

Viewing is from Bond Street or Royd Terrace. The garden itself is not accessible so bring binoculars! The boards were created by young people in Calderdale over the last year. The artists will be available to meet on Sunday June 26 in Bond Street from noon to 4pm.

Street Art Project

Hebden Bridge Street Artists will be holding another of their successful workshops during the Festival. For details and how to get involved please leave your name at the Festival Shop in Albert Street or email sgrafart@postmaster.co.uk

Supported by Styles and Wood, Calderdale Community Safety Partnership and Business in the Community.

A row of three terraced south-facing gardens at the back of Hurst Road, mainly perennial planting with some plants for sale. Steps.

1 The Woodlands

Palace House Road, Hebden Bridge HX7 6JP

A small, quiet garden with sculptures by local sculptor John Adamson. There is a seat to enjoy the birds and pond life. The garden has an emphasis on perennial planting with herbs and medicinal plants. Steps.

Courtyard Garden

Rochdale Canal, Hebden Bridge

Demonstrates how a limited garden space doesn't have to limit the imagination. (Raised edible beds, container gardening, trees, worm composting, a number of different watering systems for a variety of situations, ponds, reed beds, demo hydraulic ram and interactive fountain).

Theatre Garden

Rochdale Canal, Hebden Bridge

All the plants in this garden are not just pretty faces. Most were chosen for their craft value, to be used for experimenting and education (eg. paper making, dyeing, drying and weaving). Also wildlife planting for health and pest control, solar-lit stepping stones and waterfall.

Central Street Infant School

Central Street, Hebden Bridge HX7 6HB

A school garden with paths and tunnels using mostly natural products. The Nursery garden is larger and more developed with trees, shrubs and flowers.

11 Marlborough Grove

Hebden Bridge HX7 8BS

Mature south-facing terraced garden with fabulous views over the Calder Valley. Well-established trees and shrubs surround lawn area and there are steps down to a Mediterranean style garden with patio. Steps.

Mytholm House

Mytholm Bank, Hebden Bridge HX7 6DL

200 years old, still a work in progress, aiming for a colourful and fruitful mixture of formality with wilder habitat. More plants since last year, and the pond has been revamped. Home made refreshments available. Sorry no dogs. Supervised children please. Some steps.

Upper Valley Support Services

Royd Square, Bond Street, Hebden Bridge HX7 7DE

Early days in creating a colourful, vibrant, living, sensory space that will bring together different community groups with people with learning disabilities to promote inclusion. This year enjoy our garden gallery of local art and a scarecrow trail by local schools. Level access. Open Saturday June 25 only.

Open Weekend 2/3 July 11am to 5pm

Birchwood Cottage

Heptonstall Road, Hebden Bridge HX7 6AZ

A one acre garden on various terraced levels. Large variety of plants and features in a woodland setting. Steps. Open on Sunday only.

Dean Bottom Farm

Jumble Hole Road, Todmorden OL14 8SU

A beautiful hillside location, an energetic walk up or a leisurely stroll down to a two acre mixture of garden and meadow, with pond, willow dome and trees and shrubs planted during the last seven years. Tea and scones on the veranda! Open on Sunday only.

5 Silver Street

Heptonstall HX7 7PA

A tiny fairytale garden containing Anne Isseyegh's artists studio.

3a Weavers Square

Heptonstall HX7 7NS

A cottage garden with a small border and lots of planters and pots tightly packed with plants. There is a large hanging basket and a jasmine creeper that is very sweetly scented.

3 The Weavers Square

Heptonstall HX7 7NS

The house was once a weavers cottage and dates from 1600.

The Old Vicarage

Church Street, Heptonstall HX7 7NT

Walled family friendly garden (children welcome). Small wooden playhouse, lawn shaded by a large cherry tree, herbaceous border and large garden seat.

Open Weekend 2/3 July 11am to 5pm continuedBoothroyd*Widdop Road, Heptonstall, HX7 7AZ
